A: The best chapter is the one you fit into best which is why it is mandatory to now attend every event that you are invited to. For the first time, men will have an opportunity to visit all 18 fraternities, which will provide a much needed opportunity to discover where you see yourself. Even if you think you know which chapter you want to join, it is still good to keep an open mind because you might find one that is actually a better fit.

Q: Are all chapters housed?
A: Only a portion of the IFC chapters have recognized chapter facilities. The unhoused chapters will have events at various locations which will be outlined on the IFC Recruitment Week Schedule of events

Q: Registration problems?
A: Contact the IFC office phone at 520-621-2934

Q: Is there a grade requirement to receive a bid?
A: 2.75 cumulative (unweighted) High School GPA if coming straight from high school and a 2.50 cumulative GPA from college.

Q: What if I don't meet the required minimum GPA?
A: Unfortunately, there is not an appeals process for students who are under the GPA requirements. We recommend that if you do not meet the grade point requirement, take a semester to focus on academics, get involved with one of the many student clubs at the University of Arizona, and then consider joining a fraternity the following semester. If you choose to continue with the recruitment process, please know that your experience will be severely limited as the majority of fraternities (if not all) will not be able to extend you an invitation for membership, which is why we strongly suggest waiting until you meet the required grade point average.

Q: How can I send in a transcript to update my grades?
A: By fax 520-621-0767 [preferred], in person, or by mail (Arizona Student Unions, Rm. 404 P.O. Box 210017 Tucson, AZ 85721). Please make sure you write that it is for the IFC and it is regarding Recruitment Transcripts for (insert name). If you are returning University of Arizona student, you do not need to submit a transcript unless specifically asked.

Q: What is a bid?
A: A bid is the term used to define an invitation to become a member of a fraternity. The Monday of IFC Recruitment Week is called Bid Day. It is at this time that chapters may extend bids to potential new members and in return the potential new members must make a final decision on which bid to accept and/or whether to accept a bid at all. IFC bids are often good for one calendar year, yet it may depend on the specific chapter. Bid Day for Spring Recruitment is January 31st, 2015.

A: The Interfraternity Council does not require letters of recommendation. Some chapters may ask for a letter of recommendation but it is not required.

Q: Why are some fraternities more expensive than others?
A: Chapters offer many different amenities and programs with a wide variety of expenses. Depending on what the individual chapter provides will dictate their dues amounts. You can anticipate that chapters who have a house will be more expensive as costs typically including housing, meal plans, utilities, etc.
Q: Do fraternities haze?
A: All IFC chapters at the University of Arizona are bound under a strict zero tolerance hazing policy. Hazing of any kind is unacceptable and will not be tolerated. If a member feels he has been hazed or has heard of hazing taking place they are encouraged to call our anonymous hazing hotline at (520)626-4293.
